INTRODUCTION

The works compiled herein represent a factual history of the United States' most popular recorded music (45 RPM records) from 1955 through 1972.

It also represents the entire history of Billboard Magazine's "Top 100" pop record charts. Billboard began publishing a weekly "Top 100" chart (later changed to "Hot 100") on November 2, 1955. This book lists data for every record to make every Billboard "Top 100" chart and "Hot 100" chart – from its beginning – through the December 30, 1972 chart.

Prior to the "Top 100" chart, Billboard published a weekly "Best Selling Singles" chart which varied in size from 10 to 30 listings. Record Research has available a separate publication covering these charts from 1940 to the beginning of the "Top 100" in 1955.

Certain records which carried over from the last "Best Selling Singles" chart to the "Top 100" chart are listed in the book for the period in which the record had its highest chart entry and most total weeks on the charts. The data listed for those records is combined from both charts and shows the record's entire chart life.

During the 18 year period covered in this book, 2,735 artists and 11,041 records made the charts.

Section I is arranged alphabetically by artist. Under the artist's name are listed their charted records in chronological order. Relevant data for each record is shown in the following order:

Date: Month/Day/Year record first made the chart.
Pos.: Highest numerical position record achieved.
Wks.: Total number of weeks charted.
 : Records achieving #1 status.
* : Records achieving #2-#10 status.
Label: Record label and number.
) : Both sides of same record bracketed together.

Section II is an alphabetical song title cross reference listing. Ps (Position) and Yr (Year) are shown for each title (as listed in the artist section). Records with the same title are arranged by highest position and records by the same composer are grouped together.

Section III is a chronological listing, year by year, of the Number 1 records, showing the date the record first reached #1 and the total weeks the record held #1.

Section IV contains pictures of the Top 100 artists for the period covered in this book.

Section V contains trivia and factual information about the Top Achievements of artists and records from the listings compiled herein.

Record titles, labels and numbers are checked for accuracy from the original release of the record as found in my personal record library.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

... From collector

Joel Whitburn began his record collection in the early fifties, quite a while before he became an employee of a local record distributor. "I got a discount after that, but even still it's safe to say it was and is an expensive hobby!"

How expensive? Today Joel owns the largest private collection of original mint condition singles in the world, valued at over $50,000.

... to researcher

Then, in 1964, Joel got the idea to classify and organize his singles by year and by their popularity (highest chart ranking) to keep the collection straight. Each of the over 10,000 singles were carefully catalogued, then filed in specially constructed cabinets.

The research went back to 1955 when Billboard Magazine first published its weekly chart, then called the 'Top 100'. Information was gathered for every charted record from the 'Top 100' and 'Hot 100' charts, then each entry was cross-checked against his own copy of the record. In all, Joel spent five years doing research on his Pop/Rock collection of singles and Billboard charts.

... to author

When the project was finally finished, Joel decided to publish the results in book form to sell to radio stations and collectors. The book, Record Research 1955-1969, sold for $50, possibly making it the highest priced paper back in history. "I really had no idea how many copies would be sold," Joel recalls. "I sent out flyers describing the book to the radio stations and took out ads in the trade magazines. Then suddenly, it caught on!"

... to authority

In a short time the book became the official 'bible' of the music industry and its author the reputed authority. In fact, Joel's reputation spread so quickly that he soon spent from three to four hours a day on the phone with collectors and radio programmers from across the country.

NTRODUCTION

This supplement to the book "TOP POP RECORDS 1955-1972" covers every Billboard "HOT 100" chart from January 6, 1973 through December 29, 1973. During those 52 weeks, 320 artists and 520 records made the "HOT 100". Each of those entries is listed herein — by artist and by song title.

Section I is arranged alphabetically by artist Under the artist's name are listed their charted records from 1973. Relevant data for each record is shown in the following order

DATE: Month/Day/Year record first made the chart.
POS.: Highest numerical position record achieved.
WKS.: Total number of weeks charted.
*: Records achieving #1 status.
: Records achieving #2-#10 status.
LABEL: Record label and number.

Section II is an alphabetical song title cross reference listing. POS. (Position) is shown for each title. The YEAR is not shown, however, as all titles are from 1973.

Section III contains a chronological listing of the Number 1 records of 1973, plus a listing of the year's Top 30 artists and the Top 30 Records Of Longevity.

Record titles, labels and numbers are checked for accuracy from the original release of the record as found in my record library.

INTRODUCTION

This is the second yearly supplement to the book "TOP POP RECORDS 1955-1972" covering every Billboard "HOT 100" chart from January 5, 1974 through December 28, 1974. During those 52 weeks, 317 artists and 503 records made the "HOT 100" charts. Each of those entries is listed herein — by artist and by song title.

Section I is arranged alphabetically by artist. Under the artist's name are listed their charted records from 1974. Relevant data for each record is shown in the following order:

DATE: Month/Day/Year record first made the chart.
POS.: Highest numerical position record achieved.
WKS.: Total number of weeks charted.
*: Records achieving #1 status.
: Records achieving #2-#10 status.
LABEL: Record label and number.

Section II is an alphabetical song title cross reference listing. POS. (Position) is shown for each title. The YEAR is not shown, however, as all titles are from 1974.

Section III contains a chronological listing of the Number 1 records of 1974, plus a listing of the year's Top 40 artists and the Top Records Of Longevity.

Record titles, labels and numbers are checked for accuracy from the original release of the record as found in my record library.
